From the Editor

I want to give a big welcome to Betsy Foote as she takes on the Co-Manager position with Patsy. When you team up someone with years of experience like Patsy Gifford and the tenacity and resilience of a 30-year ag teacher you have an unbeatable combination that will not only make sure the work of the association gets done, but will hold members, committees and board members accountable. I'm excited to have the opportunity to work with these two professionals and look forward to serving the entire membership in 2023.

My husband and I enjoyed our tour of Humdinger Holsteins and the visit with Trevor Holdridge and his parents Rick and Terri. The walk through the barn of stunning individuals with tails washed and fresh shavings spread across the center aisle took the morning and spilled into the afternoon. The sound of the babbling stream just outside the barn was as peaceful as the view of the Catskill Mountains in every direction. We ended our tour with a look through the wedding book, some warm coffee cake and a bottle of fresh eggnog from the Humdinger Farm Store. You can read all about Humdinger Holsteins beginning on page 12.

We also have the All-New York and Junior All-New York presentation in this issue starting on page 30!

The deadline for the March-April issue of New York Holstein News is February 14. It will feature the All-New York Red & Whites and will also be our Youth Issue! To advertise your Red and Whites or to shine the light on the youth of your farm family contact me at 517-398-1957 or email: farm.writer@hotmail.com.

Junior Corner

Caitlyn Van Duesen

Happy New Year everyone! I can't believe it is already 2023 and that I will be graduating high school in just a few months. With the beginning of a new year it is always important to set some goals for yourself. Whether that is studying more, being more outgoing, or trying something new. A goal that I am challenging you all with is to make a difference. There are so many ways to do this. You could check in on a friend, you never know when they will need someone to talk to. Run for a position on the Junior Executive Committee. Or help out a younger junior member. I also encourage you to meet new people. One of my favorite things about New York Holstein is the people that I have met, some of which have become some of my closest friends. Not only do I see these friends at convention, but I also see them at 4H and FFA events too. It is always nice to see a familiar face in a crowd and be able to talk. No matter what your goals are this year I hope that you are all successful!

With that being said this is the last Jr. Corner that I will be writing. Over the last two years as Recording Secretary I had so much fun being able to write these and connect with all of the juniors. I hope that you enjoyed reading this as much as I did writing it. Lastly, I hope that you have an amazing year!

Dairy Dilemma Questions:

Novice:

Q: What percentage of milk is composed of solids?

Junior:

Q: Administering what reproductive hormone promotes regression of the corpus luteum?

Senior:

Q: In an anaerobic digester system, what does RNG stand for?

Novice Answer: 13% Junior Answer: Prostaglandin Senior Answer: Renewable natural gas.

Holstein Fraternity Rallies to Support Wadsworths

The New York Holstein fraternity rallied around Blake & Ryleigh Wadsworth, the children of the late Seth Wadsworth to support their future. In two events they raised approximately $374,100 for the pair.

The first event held on November 26th was the Leaving a Legacy for Blake & Ryleigh Wadsworth Benefit where everything from IVF sessions and embryos of all breeds of cattle to baskets of various items were donated to sell. People gathered for an evening of food and fellowship and raised $125,000.

On December 16, the Seth Wadsworth Memorial Sale was held where $249,100 was raised for the benefit of Blake and Ryleigh. Jeff King said, "As we reflect on these amazing results, we are reminded of the undeniable generosity of our industry. The ability of 'our people' to gather around those in their time of need and lift them up with support is truly incredible. Our hats are tipped to all of the consignors, bidders and buyers! Well done!"

Thank you to all who organized, donated and supported Blake and Ryleigh Wadsworth.

Christmas Blizzard OF 2022

W A S O N E F O R T H E A G E S

While Buffalo, New York has had its share of blizzards, the one that hit at Christmas 2022 was one for the ages. Touted as one of the worst snow storms in 50 years, our friends at Oakfield Corners Dairy outlined some of their struggles on social media. Here is what Kendra Lamb had to report from the aftermath of the storm:

Hey friends! It has been a long, hard 5 days since the blizzard. Our calf facility was hit super hard by the storm. But, man, our village is beyond amazing! We had 500 calves in hutches and over a thousand in barns. The snow dumped over the hutches and blew into every barn.

Our first emergency was the hutches completely covered in snow. I was so scared that calves were suffocating. We made holes so they could breathe and then physically lifted 200 calves out of their hutches, Snow surrounded the calf hutches on Christmas morning. We fed babies through the small openings until we could lift them out.

The barns weren't spared, that wind and snow snuck in everywhere.

over the snow pile and wire while we still had whiteout conditions. Feeding milk, water and grain was a nightmare when we couldn't see, let alone get any equipment to run or get through the drifting snow. Kristin, who has cared for our calves for 30 years, hasn't seen anything like this in her time at the farm. Crazy!

Now we're dealing with the aftermath and trying to make conditions a little better for our calves and people each day. It's truly heartwarming how many people have stepped in and gone above and beyond to help. We are so blessed!

I don't post this for sympathy, but because many have asked how we're doing and because there are a lot of amazing farm team members and those of our "village" who deserve a shout-out! This storm was the worst, but our people are the best!

Betsy Foote

Executive Manager's REPORT

I am honored to have the opportunity to work with Patsy Gifford as she officially returns to the New York Holstein Association as Co-Manager. After my recent retirement from more than three decades of teaching high school agricultural science, I am excited to be back with the Holstein fraternity!

I am proud to have grown up on Welcome Stock Farm where "the coffee pot's on and the welcome mat's out" was not just an advertising slogan! I enjoyed working alongside my sisters, Cindy and Kristy, and brothers, Bill and Neil, on our 100 cow dairy farm. My main responsibilities included calf and heifer care. As a youth I was active in the Tri-County Junior Holstein Club and served as the calf sale chairman. I served as the NY Jr. Holstein Recording Secretary and was selected as the NY Jr. Holstein Distinguished Junior Member. Doug Wolfe and I sported the spiffy forest green DJM blazers! I was a National DJM Semi-finalist and have fond memories of traveling to New England for the National Convention. After graduating from SUNY, Cobleskill and Cornell University I began teaching high school agriculture at Hartford Central School. I earned my Administration Degree from SUNY, Plattsburgh and finished my career at Greenwich High School. I am honored to have taught over 3,000 students the importance of the agricultural industry. Not all students entered agricultural fields but all students increased their appreciation and understanding of agriculture. I served as the President of the New York Association of Agricultural Educators three times over my 34-year teaching career. I have been on the Hartford Town Board, the Washington County Fair Board and am currently the chairman of the Washington County Dairy Princess Committee.

My husband, Wayne, Sr, and I raised our three children on our small Registered Guernsey farm. Wayne, Jr. is the Northeast Customer Service Manager with Tractor Supply, Mary-Elizabeth is the Schuylerville High School agricultural science teacher and Suzanne is a NYS Appellate Court Attorney. There was no better place to raise our three kids than on a farm! Mary was even the National Holstein Senior Prepared Speaking Contest winner! Our kids took an active role on our small farm. They enjoyed showing Holsteins and Guernseys at county, state and national shows. We all take pride in continuing the Welcome prefix on our Guernsey herd. Our genetics have been sold across the country, as well as heifers to Turkey and embryos to Japan!

Working with the New York Holstein Association allows me to continue working in an industry that I am passionate about. I look forward to reconnecting with New York Holstein membership and serving the Association. Just as Welcome Stock Farm has transitioned over the years, I am ready to work with the New York Holstein Association through this new transition.

Greetings members and friends,

Cheers to the New Year! There are exciting things in store for 2023 at NY Holstein! State Convention is a time for meetings and renewed friendships; for social gatherings and youth competitions; for recognizing NY Jr and Sr Members and for remembering those gone before us. I have great memories as a NY Jr member, attending Convention for Dairy Bowl Competition and DJM awards; later as a State Director and currently as NY Holstein President. A big shout out of congratulations to the Breeder award winners: Young Breeder, Sonja Galley, Silver-Spoon Dairy, LLC; Master Breeder Phil and Roger Marshfield, Mountfield Farms; and Retired Master Breeder, Jim Putman, Roput Farm. Well deserved!

NY Holstein is pleased to announce the hiring of Betsy Foote as co-Executive Manager along with Patsy Gifford. These two will work closely together to manage the workings of the Association, plan and execute activities and events, effectively communicate with the membership and anything else that comes their way that needs attention. Thank you to the Executive Committee for your efforts with this new hiring. It's a new twist at NY Holstein and something the Executive Committee believes will be very effective.

Going right from the frying pan to the fire! After Convention comes the Spring Show in Hamburg. This will be a spectacular 3-day event (March 31-April 2) filled with excitement, enthusiasm and exceptional cattle. More detailed information can be found in this issue of the NEWS as well as our Facebook page. Looking forward to seeing you there!

As I was browsing through some magazines, I found an article referring to some history and statistics. Nearly 30 years ago in 1992, there were roughly 131,500 dairies nation wide with permits to sell milk to processing plants. Today that number has declined to 29,500 dairies. There were nearly 9.7 million dairy cows nationally back in the early 90's with an average herd size of roughly 75 cows. Today the number is around 9.4 million cows with an average herd size right around 317 cows. I write this to applaud and thank you all who own, operate, manage and work at these dairy farms. Thank you for your hard work and dedication to produce nutritious, delicious and high-quality dairy products. Thank you for the top-quality care you provide to your animals. Thank you for continuing to breed superior genetics, whether it be genomics, high type or both. Thank you for having solid merchandising and advertising programs. If you are ones who enjoy showing, I look forward to seeing you in the show ring this year. Thank you to all NY Holstein members for your love of the Holstein cow!

May joy and peace surround you, contentment latch your door. May happiness be with you now, blessings like never before!

– Beth

Jean Catherine (Cross) Kent

Stafford ~ Jean Catherine (Cross) Kent passed peacefully on Wednesday November 23, 2022, at her home after a long battle with dementia. Born June 6, 1934, she was predeceased by her parents, Ray and Catherine Cross, twin sister, June (Ken) Wallace, sister, Bonnie Babbitt, and brother, Jim (Dottie) Cross, great-granddaughter, Caroline Welch, son-in-law, Kevin Carhart and sister-in-law, Jeanne (Len) Jackson.

Among their highlights were selling cattle at Madison Square Garden and the Grand Ole

Jean loved people and especially loved attending her kids, grandkids and great-grandkids' events, including horse and cattle shows, sporting events, concerts, and musicals. She took countless photos so we could always remember the joy they brought her.

The Humdinger Holstein Story

By Melissa Hart

Rick and Terri Holdridge set a date to get married and found a farm to buy in the late 1980s. Feeling scared half to death, they walked into Frank Wood's office to make an offer on Deer Run, just one of the many Dreamstreet Farms nestled in New York's Catskill Mountains, in Bloomville of Delaware County.

Wood, accompanied by his lawyer, told the young couple they would own the 130-acre farm when they walked out of his office that day. Wood was asking $180,000. "I told him we couldn't afford that much, and that I didn't think the farm was worth that much," Rick recounted. "He asked me what we were willing to pay, and I told him $120,000 and he said, 'Okay.'"

He found out later that Wood actually knew Terri's parents - the Inmans, of Mar-Bill Farms - and that he really wanted Rick and Terri to have that farm, so he made it happen. "Frank was very good to us; he left 30 cows here while we got started, and then those cows went to Ru-Ann in California," Rick explained.

Humdinger Holsteins began on April 1, 1987, and for the first 10 years both he and Terri had part-time off-farm jobs and used one full-time employee. When their three kids entered the busy age of extracurricular activities, they dropped from 80 to 40 cows, and shifted from full-time employees to some evening help.

Terri comes from a long line of dairy farmers - her great-great grandfather arrived from Scotland in 1850 and every generation since has been dairying in Delaware County. "My biggest asset is my wife, she did a lot of the milking and is a great tractor driver. And so, we do everything together," Rick noted.

Today, their children continue to be connected to Humdinger Holsteins. The youngest, Trevor, is the sixth generation of the farming family and is taking over the herd. Their daughter, Nikki, her husband Tanner and their son, live in Virginia, and she works from home and manages the social media for their Airbnb and the Humdinger Farm Store. Son Nathan is married with children and is a math teacher in Rochester who calls regularly with the same question: "What's the latest on the farm?" He and his family also come home in the summer to help with field work.

Breeding Philosophy

The 50-cow herd is made up of 40 Excellents, 11 of them new and three new EX-94s since their most recent classification in November, along with 10 Very Good with nothing lower than 85 points. While their BAA is 113.9, Trevor does not consider that a measuring stick for his goals.

"I'm not after a class winner at Madison or the highest BAA; I just want a good herd of cows that I look forward to getting up and milking every day," he said. "I'm not going to set a goal according to someone else's opinion. Yes, I want good cows, but being the highest on the BAA list is not my goal. You can't compete with some of these farms with their BAA and their show strings."

With cow families like, Adeen, Ashlyn, the Roxys, the Lulu's, Talent

The Holdridge Bridge to Grandmas house goes over the scenic stream that runs through the farm. The sound of the stream greets tourists as they stay at the Humdinger AirBNB and tour the farm.

This VG-88 2-Yr-Old Airlift daughter out of Jerricho Dairy Byway Carat EX-94 will finished with a 30,000 record and is pregnant to Gold Chip. “We really like her,” commented Trevor.

Licorice, Tamara, Rae, Audrey Posch, the family at Lylehaven Broker Mandy, Atlee, Team Durham Morgan, James Rose, Barracuda and Sid Chardonnay represented in his barn, Trevor breeds for balance, good udders and functional feet and legs. “I like show cows, but that’s not where it’s at for me. I want the potential of getting a really good cow out of my worst cow,” he explained. “I want to be able to show a person my worst cow and not be embarrassed.

“I use a lot of bulls because I don’t want to put all my eggs in one basket. I have several cow families in the barn, so I can’t say that one bull works on every family the same way.” Trevor listed the bulls he has used recently, including Altitude, Jordy, Milio, Blackwood, Diamondback, Warrior, Denver, Analyst, Fitters Choice, Doc, Moovin and Sidekick. The older bulls he continues to use are Crush, Aftershock, McCutchen, Gold Chip, Atwood, and Doorman.

“Back in the index days, when anyone could compete, we paid off part of the farm with an animal that we sold,” Rick said. “We got into the Cletus Grace family from

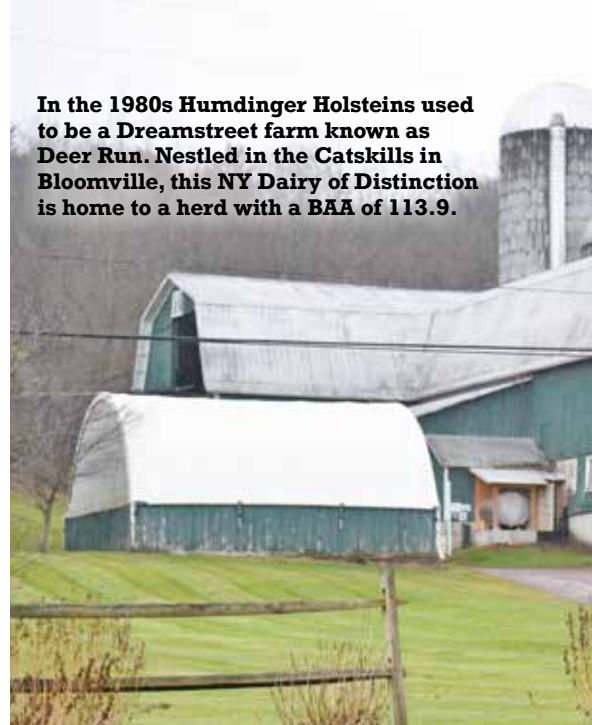

The Humdinger Farm Store

The Humdinger Farm store was opened in 2019 and offers home-raised beef, locally grown pork, dairy products and homemade baked goods on the weekend.

The Humdinger Farm Store was developed in 2019, offering a place where the community could access locally grown foods. The beef they sell in store is home-raised, in addition to pork and chicken dairy products including cheese, butter and milk, maple products, coffee, honey, eggs and fresh-baked goods on the weekend. They have also partnered with local restaurants and caterers to provide fresh beef for their establishments. Terri takes care of the store that is open year-round in a small building on the farm.

“The store boomed during Covid and people were very respectful of each other. Since, it has slowed down a bit but we are still having trouble keeping it stocked,” she noted.

In the 1980s Humdinger Holsteins used to be a Dreamstreet farm known as Deer Run. Nestled in the Catskills in Bloomville, this NY Dairy of Distinction is home to a herd with a BAA of 113.9.

Rick and Terri Holdridge began Humdinger Holsteins in 1987 and today they are turning the herd over to their youngest son Trevor. Rick has always enjoyed working with the cows.

Mar-Bill with a Bellwood daughter. Gary Janson of Golden Oaks came out from Illinois and purchased one from us for $40,000, and that helped pay a third of the farm off.”

While Trevor manages the herd, Rick sometimes offers sage advice. A cow named Probably is an example of this. “When Probably was born, I was just starting to pay attention to sires and what they bring to the herd,” Trevor explained. “I noticed she was sired by Copper, and I asked, ‘Dad, who the heck is Copper? And why’d you use him?’ And he replied, ‘I don’t know but you should name her Probably because she probably will be a good one.’” Probably is now EX-94.

One cow family who has done well for Humdinger Holsteins is Jerricho Dairy Byway Carat EX-94 2E. She’s out of an EX-91 3-Yr-Old Destry, then an EX-91 Dundee, then Manavale Lindy Carol-ET EX-94 5E and then an EX-94 3E GMD Matador daughter. At 4-02 and in 364 days she has a record of 37,880M 1479F 1192P. The six-year-old Byway has had 4 calves and is due in February to sexed Jordy. “Her oldest daughter is a VG-88 2-Yr-Old Airlift and we really like her. She will complete a 30,000 pound record as a two-year-old and is pregnant to Gold Chip,” Trevor noted. Two other daughters out of Carat include an Atwood bred heifer, and a Moovin Winter barn’s hay mow on Sept. 30. With a little over a month to prepare and a barn full of hay, they moved all the hay out of the mow, moved the mow driers out, built stairs for her to enter upon, put up lights and decorated for a Humdinger Farm wedding.

When the pastor announced the couple as husband and wife, the vacuum pump came on to start milking the cows located down below. During the reception, when the DJ played “Cotton-Eyed Joe”, the crowd began to stomp the hay mow floor. Some wedding guests who had wandered downstairs to see the cows, noticed that the ceiling was flexing up and down several inches during the dancing. They immediately asked the DJ to play slow songs so they could shore up the old barn. Several family members in their suits and tuxes went downstairs, jacked up the floor and put in support posts for reinforcement. They later rejoined the party and the celebration continued without incident.

A book of the wedding was created with photos of the entire event. When the family gives tours of the farm for their guests who rent their Humdinger Farm Cabins, “The Wedding Book” comes out - and they enjoy that beautiful September day all over again.

The hay mow was transformed into a wedding venue in just a few short weeks as the family removed the hay out and replaced it with wedding decorations and built stairs for a grand entrance for the bride.

Nikki and her fiancé came to her parents in August 2017 and said they wanted to have the wedding in the yearling.

Humdinger Holsteins are housed in 4.5-foot wide tie-stalls with tie rails that range from 55 to 60 inches in height. While the cows are on mattresses, they are bedded with shavings and hay. The heifers are housed in the tie-stall barn and calves are housed in box stalls. The cows go out nearly every day, no matter the weather.

The Holdridges own about 550 acres and farm a few hundred more. The milk cows are fed a TMR of corn silage and haylage. The family puts up about 30,000 small squares of hay per year. While they feed dry hay in their ration, they have a substantial hay market too.

Trevor's education in college was purposeful. "I went to the local SUNY college and learned things that would be helpful on the farm, but also I could fall back on if I needed to. I took plumbing and heating, electrical, refrigeration and air conditioning and carpentry," he noted.

"What drives me? I love being around cows and I love being around cows that I love working with. I get more satisfaction out of doing chores than anything else. My goal is simple; keep farming. There are getting to be less and less small farms so we just want to survive and have fun doing it."

A LETTER FROM THE Show Committee

Dear NYHA Show Supporters,

Whether you are an exhibitor, spectator, sponsor, volunteer, or breeder we are so glad to have the support of so many for our NYHA Shows. The Show Committee met in October of 2022 to plan for this year's shows and beyond. One of the goals of the committee was to get some future dates established for 2024 and 2025 as well so that adequate planning could be achieved. If you've ever planned any sort of event from a birthday party, to a wedding, to a cow show you know the struggle of a few things-the perfect date and perfect location rarely exist for every single person. In planning for our shows the committee weighed our options and for the next three years we are happy to be in Hamburg, NY for spring show the first week of April and Greenwich, NY the second week of September (exact dates will be published in the News and online but that is the general time for the events).

The Show Committee wanted to address concerns about the dates for the shows. We understand Spring Show might be a little early for people but the location in Hamburg provides a great facility and the weekend we are at the show is the only weekend available to us. It's not ideal that we conflict with Ohio but it is what we have to work with. We have asked for the option to move later in April if it ever opened up. In the case of State Show the committee has a few goals for the show. We want an exhibitor friendly, highly competitive show, that doesn't conflict with any county shows or fairs so that exhibitors don't have to choose between the two. We want a show that is financially sustainable thanks to entry fees and sponsor support. We hope by having show days on a weekend junior members can still exhibit. We want a show that provides momentum for cattle heading into fall shows.

While neither Spring Show or State Show are centrally located we are limited in our options due to the number of head that are at the shows as well as other commitments that facilities have. Both Hamburg and Greenwich are very welcoming and accommodating.

To address member's concerns about New York State Show conflicting with the New York State Fair Holstein show we want to assure you this was discussed at our meeting. We want discussions around the topic to be NY State Show AND State Fair not NY State Show vs. NYSF. We are glad there is still a show at state fair, we are glad that it was well attended. NYHA will still support the show at State Fair in various ways. We simply want to provide another avenue for our members to show their cattle. We aren't planning and hosting state show to take away from any other show in the Northeast. We are simply providing another place to show, a competitive show, a show where we can get together as a Holstein Community.

As always this is a membership organization, if you would like to join the show committee reach out to Beth Keene. If you would like to attend a meeting let us know.

Sincerely, Kelly Reynolds & Show Committee Members in attendance at our 10/22 meeting:

The Vytelle Difference

By Bev Berens

Traditional IVF technology based in Follicle Stimulating Hormone therapy can help producers rapidly improve a herd's genetic progress. It also comes with a steep price tag regardless of viable embryos obtained after flushing and developing oocytes.

"It's like risk-taking," said John Mikel, owner of Mikelholm Holsteins of Stafford, New York. Mikel is no new-comer when it comes to breeding and raising high show-type cattle. But as a smaller scaled producer, traditional IVF services were simply too much of a risk in cost and animal health.

Starting with his own cattle, he saw the benefits of a low cost, less invasive, safer method of IVF through Vytelle. Seeing the need and demand for a lower risk option, he transitioned the benefits he experienced into a diversification opportunity, using his existing facilities to open opportunity doors not only to himself but to other New York cattlemen. His daughter, Emily is a lab technician for Vytelle, and her affiliation with the company also played a part in the decision to step into an IVF Satellite Center.

Instead of aspirating only the large, mature follicles caused by FSH injections, oocytes of varied maturity are harvested from the ovaries and sent to the lab for development according to Nick Bertsche, Customer Service Manager for Vytelle. The oocytes are matured, fertilized, and then cultured in the lab over a period of six to eight days. Quality embryos are frozen at four different intervals to accommodate different rates of development. "The process is easier on the donors because it is minimally invasive and causes less donor stress," Bertsche says.

"There is a lot of competition in the IVF industry," Mikel said. "I can make my own embryos a lot cheaper and at a much lower risk. The cost is $75 plus my barn fees, and then $200 per healthy embryo. If there are no healthy embryos, the cost is still $75 plus barn fees. You don't have to pay for the FSH and the labor in administering it. It's a huge savings."

Results are speaking for themselves as each donor is averaging five healthy embryos per aspiration. "Conception rates on the embryos have been good, and everyone we have worked with has been happy with the results," Mikel said.

If one of the keys to a successful business is location, Mikelholm Holsteins has cornered the market. The farm sits between two exits off Route I-90, with only ten miles from farm to either exit.

Mikel's once-per-month collection day has room for up to thirty customers per service day. He is eager to share the opportunity for smaller producers like himself to capitalize on IVF programs through Vytelle's hormone-free system.

GET THESE GREAT HOLSTEIN BOOKS AT A GREAT PRICE

After years of research for his previous Holstein books 'Dairy Farming with Registered Holsteins in Livingston County', 'Were They Truly Champions?... the Cabana and Cole Milk Record Scandal' and 'A Bad Goodbye... The Gay Ridge and Kingstead All-American herds', Holstein enthusiast and author Terrence Grant researched over 80,000 Holstein-Friesian cow and bull pedigrees going back to the 1860s and then thousands of New York Holstein breeders and their families and organized them by their county and put them into seven books.

With help, advice and encouragement from Dick and Nancy Wright of the Ellbank Farm along with numerous others, Terrence has finally finished his work and turned his computer off, and now as the publisher I am offering everyone a chance to purchase these books, shipped directly from the printer, before they are available at the full Amazon Booksellers price (and I will also pay the shipping).
